Letter from the Executive Director

Dear colleagues and Center constituents:

I'm pleased to share the 2026 guidelines for The Pew Center for Arts & Heritage's Pew Fellowships program. This program awards 12 grants of $85,000 annually to artists residing in the five-county region of greater Philadelphia and working in all disciplines.

Pew Fellowships are unrestricted grants designed to provide artists with substantial resources to fuel their artistic innovation and professional development. The Center is proud to support a remarkably broad range of artists whose works reflect the breadth, diversity, and vitality of our region's cultural ecology. Since 1992, 424 Pew Fellowships have been awarded.

Support for individual artists is a foundational commitment for the Center. Through the Pew Fellowships, as well as through grants to organizations for creative projects and for operational change, the Center carries out one of The Pew Charitable Trusts' strategic goals: to foster a vibrant civic life by bringing high-quality, meaningful cultural experiences to a wide range of audiences in Greater Philadelphia. We continue to believe that work in arts and culture is critical to the welfare of our society.

Center staff members join me in looking forward to welcoming a new group of Fellows in 2026.

Best wishes,

Executive Director

Vision Statement

At The Pew Center for Arts & Heritage (the Center), we envision Greater Philadelphia as a widely recognized destination for dynamic, distinctive, and inclusive cultural experiences.

As both a grantmaker and hub for knowledge-sharing, the Center is dedicated to fostering a vibrant and diverse cultural ecology. We invest in ambitious and substantive work that showcases our region's artistic vitality and enhances public life. We also engage in a robust exchange of ideas on evolving artistic and interpretive practices with an international network of creators and cultural leaders.

Pew Fellowships Program Overview

The Pew Center for Arts & Heritage offers direct support to individual artists through its Pew Fellowships program. We award unrestricted grants of $85,000 annually to 12 of the most talented artists working in the Philadelphia region.

The Center's goal is to assist these artists in furthering and innovating their work by awarding substantial financial support accompanied by a set of customized, focused professional- and career-development resources.

Through such support, the Center aims to elevate the quality and raise the profile of individual artistic work in the region. We seek to create a strong community of Pew Fellows and to help them achieve their artistic and career goals by connecting them to resources in the field. Although applicants are reviewed for their achievements, the Fellowship is not a reward for past accomplishment but rather an investment in an artist's ongoing generative potential.

Applicants must have a history of active engagement in creating artwork and presenting it to the public independent of student work. Professional accomplishments must be appropriate to career stage. Pew Fellowships may be awarded to artists at any stage of their career development and to artists working in a wide range of aesthetics and traditions.

Additional Resources for Pew Fellows

In addition to grants of $85,000, Pew Fellows receive a set of customized professional development resources to further expand the impact of the monetary award.

Orientation Meeting: Fellowship recipients are required to attend an orientation soon after award notification. New Fellows will receive important information regarding the terms and conditions of the grant. This meeting is an opportunity for Pew Fellows to have their questions answered and to meet their cohort.

Financial Counseling: Pew Fellows will have the opportunity to meet with a financial advisor to seek expert advice before beginning their Fellowship period.

Artist Residency Programs: The Center has developed partnerships with several artist residency programs around the country and abroad. Following their Fellowship period, Pew Fellows will be eligible to apply to participate in these Center-supported residency programs.

Other Professional Development Opportunities: From time to time, the Center will host other professional development opportunities for Pew Fellows to help extend the impact of the Fellowship.

Eligibility

- Artists must be residents of the five-county Philadelphia area (Bucks, Chester, Delaware, Montgomery, and Philadelphia counties) at the time of nomination and must maintain residence in the five-county Philadelphia area throughout the selection process and the 2-year fellowship period. Nominees may be required to provide evidence of residency in the form of their federal tax return.
- Artists must be at least two years out of school or have equivalent career experience.
- Artists may not be matriculated students (full-time or part-time) in a degree-granting program or equivalent at the time of application, during the selection process, nor for the duration of their Fellowship period.
- Applicants may not submit work created as a student; this includes thesis work. (An artist pursuing post-graduate work in an area other than that of their artistic focus who maintains an active artistic practice is eligible for consideration.)
- Artists who hold academic positions must demonstrate that they maintain a viable and ongoing artistic practice independent of their academic duties and position. This means a professional record of exhibitions/performances/artistic presentations beyond their academic affiliation.
- Artists who have been nominated for a Pew Fellowship and who intend to apply may not participate in an application to the Center's Creative Project grant program as a commissioned or key featured artist within the same grant cycle of their application. If awarded a Pew Fellowship, artists may not participate in a Center-funded Creative Project grant for one year following the start of their Fellowship grant period.
- Artists may not be an employee of The Pew Center for Arts & Heritage, The Pew Charitable Trusts, or the Barnes Foundation, a member of an employee's household, or closely related to an employee through blood, marriage, or domestic partnership.
- Artists may not be previous recipients of a Pew Fellowship in the Arts.

The Center reserves the right to determine eligibility in all instances.

Application Process and Due Dates

STEP 1 | NOMINATION

Artists are nominated and invited to apply for the Fellowship. Thirty nominators with a deep knowledge of artists working in this region—and representing a wide range of expertise, experience, and points of view—are each asked to nominate up to two artists of exemplary talent living and working in the five-county Philadelphia area. The nominators provide a written narrative that assesses the artist’s work. Although the nominators remain anonymous to ensure the integrity of the process, their written recommendations become part of the material later reviewed by Evaluators and Panelists alongside the artist’s application.

STEP 2 | APPLICATION (Due Friday, June 5, 2026, at 5 p.m., EST)

Access the Fellowships application form online

Fellowship applications are completed through the Center’s Application Portal.

All applicants will be invited to the portal via email to register an account.

Returning Fellowships applicants may use their existing account from prior years.

To reset an account password, use the “Forgot password” link at <https://apply.pewcenterarts.org/login>.

For portal assistance, contact Jordan Garlic via jgarlic@pewcenterarts.org or call 267.350.4920.

Artists who have been nominated will be notified in April 2026 and invited to apply using the Center’s online Application Portal. An application consists of samples of the applicant’s work and written responses to three application questions. All applicants are encouraged to meet with Pew Fellowships staff to discuss their application in advance of the submission deadline.

STEP 3 | OUTSIDE EVALUATION

All applications are sorted according to artistic discipline and then reviewed by Evaluators with expertise in that area. All of the Evaluators come from outside of the Philadelphia region. They are selected for the breadth and depth of their knowledge in their respective fields. The Evaluators are responsible for reviewing nominations and assessing, commenting on, and scoring the artists’ applications. Only applications that are scored highly by the Evaluators proceed to the panel review.

Application Process and Due Dates

STEP 4 | PANEL REVIEW

Currently, all applications are reviewed by a diverse panel of artists and arts and culture practitioners from outside of the Philadelphia region. Panelists review the highest-ranked applications and select the 12 Pew Fellows. Like the Evaluators, these panelists are chosen for their expertise and drawn from areas of practice that reflect the applicant pool. This panel reviews all of the accumulated material for each artist, including the nomination narrative, external evaluations, and application, before making its decisions. Each application is assigned a Primary Reviewer who leads the discussion for their designated applications during the panel meeting. Panelists change from year to year, though some individuals may serve in multiple selection cycles.

STEP 5 | ANNOUNCEMENT

All applicants will be notified of the panel's decision in October 2026.

The Fellowship period begins November 1, 2026 and ends October 31, 2028.

Application Questions and Resume

Application Questions

Answer the following three narrative questions:

1. What are your primary artistic concerns? What is at stake in your work?
(in 750 words or fewer)
2. Please place your work in the context of your field of endeavor. If this is a collaborative practice, please explain your role and your distinctive contribution.
(in 750 words or fewer)
3. Where do you see yourself artistically in five years? What is the impact you would like the Fellowship to have on your work?
(in 750 words or fewer)

Resume

Applicants are asked to upload a resume of two pages or fewer, formatted as a PDF.

Think of this resume as a way to contextualize your career stage.

Please do not include weblinks in your applicant resume.

Artists Applying in Collaboration

A collaborative application should reflect the artists' ongoing collaborative practice.

Submit only one resume to represent the entire collaborative team.

Collaborative applicants will answer one set of questions and submit one set of work samples.

If awarded a Fellowship, grant funds will be divided evenly between the collaborating artists.

Work Sample Overview

Submit samples of your strongest work. Evaluators and Panelists will use your work samples as an important factor in making their determinations. You are urged to submit the best quality material in the most appropriate format possible. While we are aware that there is no adequate substitute for original works of art or live performance, under current circumstances there is no solution to the problem of review other than various standardized reproductions of work samples (audio or video recordings, digital images, etc.).

Please carefully consider the following while completing the Work Sample section of your application:

- Submit your work samples in the order in which you would like them to be reviewed by Evaluators and Panelists. If submitting multiple file formats (i.e., PDF, JPEG, video) to represent one work, please group those files by the work they represent and not by file format.
- Use the description boxes to provide context for each work sample. Due to the interdisciplinary nature of our program, not all Panelists will have expertise in your specific field. Therefore, please use the description box to briefly draw attention to what you consider essential or noteworthy aspects of the work. If a work sample presents a piece that was publicly performed or exhibited, please specify the location (i.e., if submitting an installation shot, provide the name of the gallery; if submitting a recording of a play, provide the name of the theater; etc.).
- As a general rule, submit work created within the last five years. Keep in mind that Evaluators and Panelists want to know what you are currently working on.
- Works-in-progress may be submitted, as long as your application also contains completed work(s). Please indicate works-in-progress as such in the description box of the application form.
- You may not submit work created while a student, including thesis work.
- Do not send original works of art, printed reviews, promotional tapes, brochures, or catalogues. These materials will not be reviewed.
- For collaborative work: If your work was made collaboratively, please use the description box of the application form to specify your role.
- For interdisciplinary work or for those submitting a variety of file formats: Please speak with Pew Fellowships staff about how best to organize your work samples.

Work Sample Instructions for Specific Artistic Disciplines

Time-Based Work: Choreography, Film and Video, Music, Performance, Theater, Sound Art

- Submit three complete works by providing individual weblinks to an online file-hosting service such as Vimeo, YouTube, SoundCloud, Dropbox, or Google Drive.

- Check the privacy settings for each weblink. All audio/video weblinks must have their share/privacy permissions set to 1.) public or 2.) viewable by anyone with the link. If your work samples are password-protected, enter the password in the “Password” box provided on the application form.
- The web pages on which your work samples appear should not include any text that is additional to what the application form requests. Disallowed text includes comments, advertisements, or links to personal websites.
